Q44. [SPLIT A] Even if you don't agree with either side completely, who do you find more convincing:

Those who say the filibuster has to go. It is an out-of-date rule that's not in the Constitution and allows a minority of Senators to cause even more gridlock. Already, too many bills with bipartisan support are blocked because a few Senators want to play partisan games 54%

Those who say abolishing the filibuster is dangerous. The Senate is supposed to be "the world's greatest deliberative body," where both parties have to work together. Without the filibuster, whichever party has a bare majority can pass any laws they want 46

Q45. [SPLIT B] Even if you don't agree with either side completely, who do you find more convincing:

Those who say the filibuster has to go. It is an out-of-date rule that's not in the Constitution and allows a minority to cause gridlock. The reality is if we want to reform immigration or health care and combat climate change, it is not going to be possible if they need 60 votes to pass every bill 54%

Q47. [SPLIT B] Even if you don't agree with either side completely, who do you find more convincing:

Those who say the filibuster is anti-Democratic and rigs the Senate to block the will of the people. When the majority of voters support important action, a narrow minority in the Senate shouldn't be able to block it. 51%
