

navigator*

Thursday, September 22nd

Abortion Rights and Democracy: A Guide for Advocates

Key Takeaways:

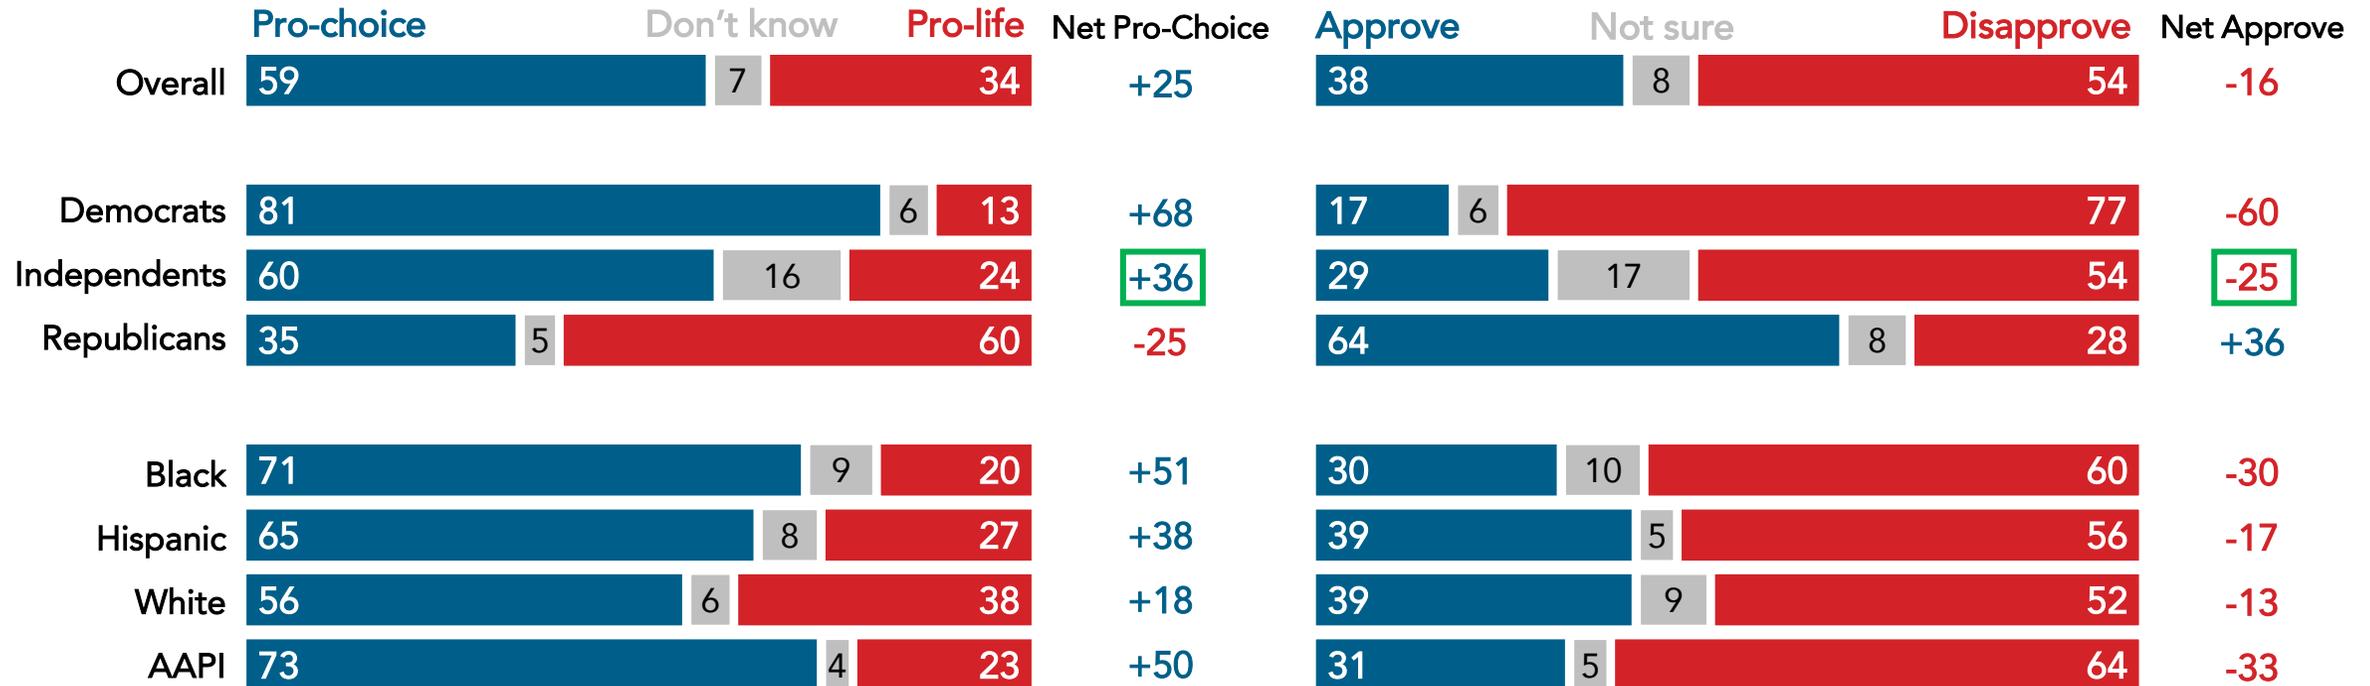

- Levels of motivation to vote in the context of the Supreme Court overturning Roe v. Wade remain just as high as when polled following the decision in early July.
- Two in three Americans are confident their ballot was counted correctly and fairly in the 2020 presidential election results, and even more express confidence about their ballot counting in the upcoming midterm elections.
- Learning that Trump had highly sensitive, classified documents detailing nuclear weapons programs increases the share who support the FBI serving a search warrant on Mar-a-Lago.

Majorities Identify as Pro-Choice and Disapprove of the Supreme Court Decision to Overturn Roe

By wide margins, independents both identify as pro-choice (net +36) and disapprove of the Supreme Court's decision (net -25 approve).

When it comes to the issue of abortion, which of the following best describes your position?

As you may know, the Supreme Court recently decided to overturn Roe v. Wade, eliminating the federal right to an abortion as a result. Do you approve or disapprove of the Supreme Court eliminating federal protections for abortion?

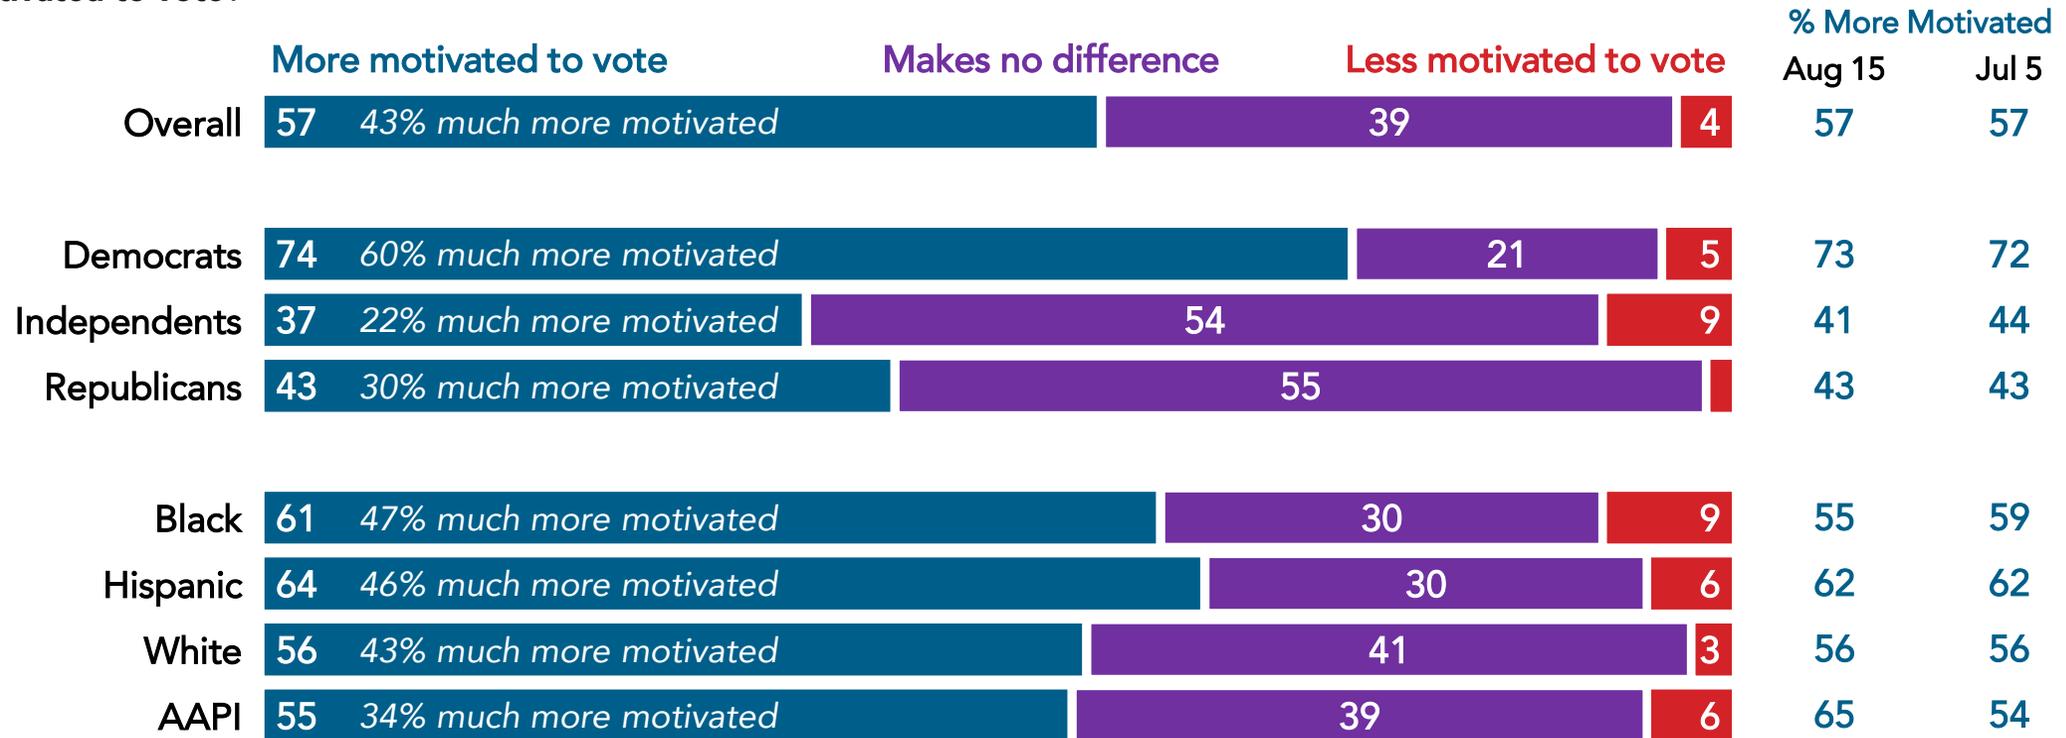

Nationwide survey of 1,001 registered voters conducted September 8-September 11, 2022. For more info, visit navigatorresearch.org.

Motivation to Vote in the Context of Roe Being Overturned Remains as High as When the SCOTUS Issued Its Ruling

Three in five Democrats (60%) say the ruling makes them “much more motivated to vote,” compared to just 30% of Republicans who say the same.

Regardless of how you plan to vote in November... Does this news about the Supreme Court overturning Roe v. Wade make you feel more or less motivated to vote?

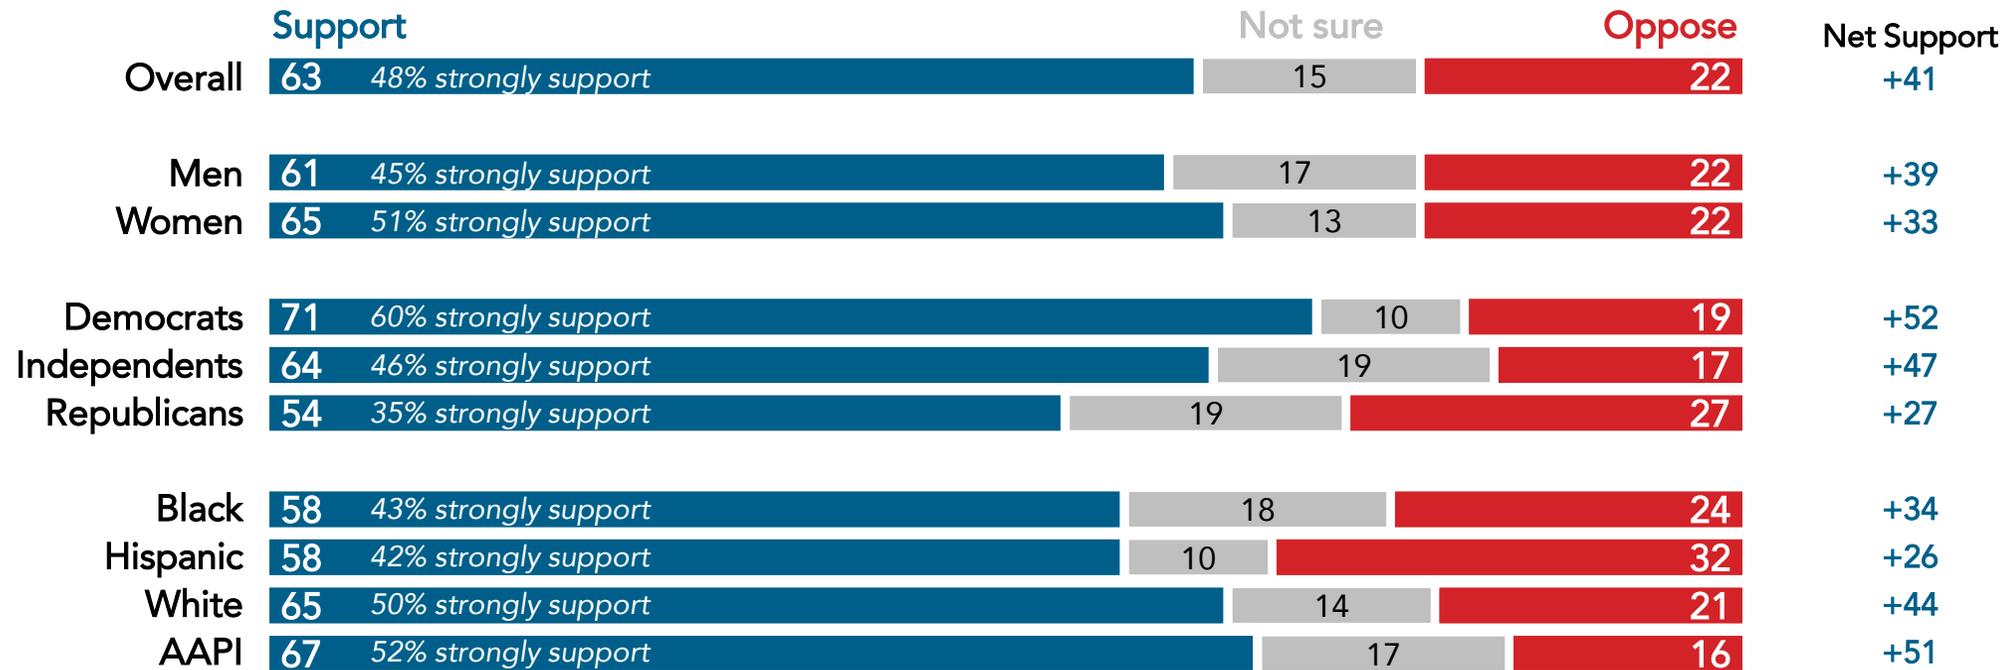

Nationwide surveys of registered voters; Each wave represents approximately 1,000 interviews taken over the prior three-five days. Latest wave conducted September 8-September 11, 2022. For more info, visit navigatorresearch.org

Nearly Two in Three Say Congress Should Ban Apps and Search Engines From Sharing Reproductive Health Data

Majorities of every partisan and racial group support Congress making it illegal for apps and search engines to sell this data.

As you may know, many women use apps and search engines to keep track of their reproductive health – including tracking their menstrual cycles. However, these kinds of apps and search engines do not protect this data, and can sell or share a woman's data to anybody or any organization. This could include information like a woman missing her period due to pregnancy or seeking out abortion services, which could in turn be used to prove a criminal case against her in states where abortion is banned. Knowing this, would you support or oppose Congress passing a law making it illegal for these apps and search engines to sell or share this data?

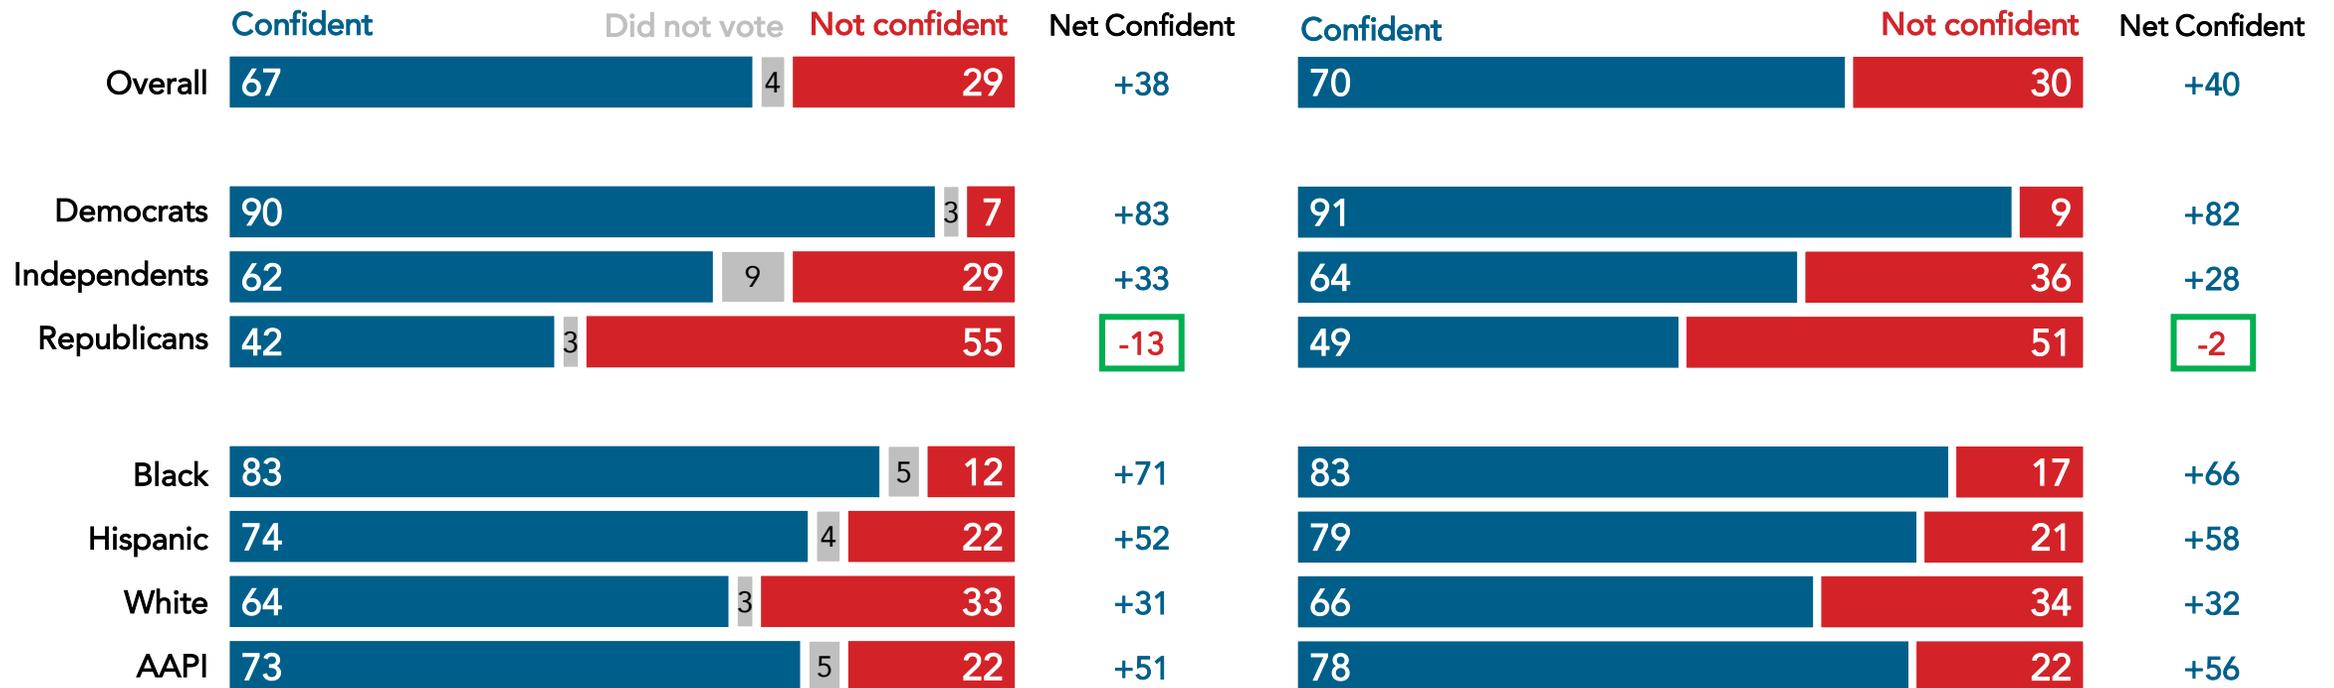

Nationwide survey of 1,001 registered voters conducted September 8-September 11, 2022.
For more info, visit navigatorresearch.org.

Three in Ten Say They Are Not Confident About Past or Future Ballots Being Counted Fairly

Republicans are the most pessimistic about their past (55% not confident) and future ballots (51%) not being counted correctly and fairly.

How confident are you that your ballot in the previous presidential election was counted correctly and fairly?

How confident are you that your ballot in future elections will be counted correctly and fairly?

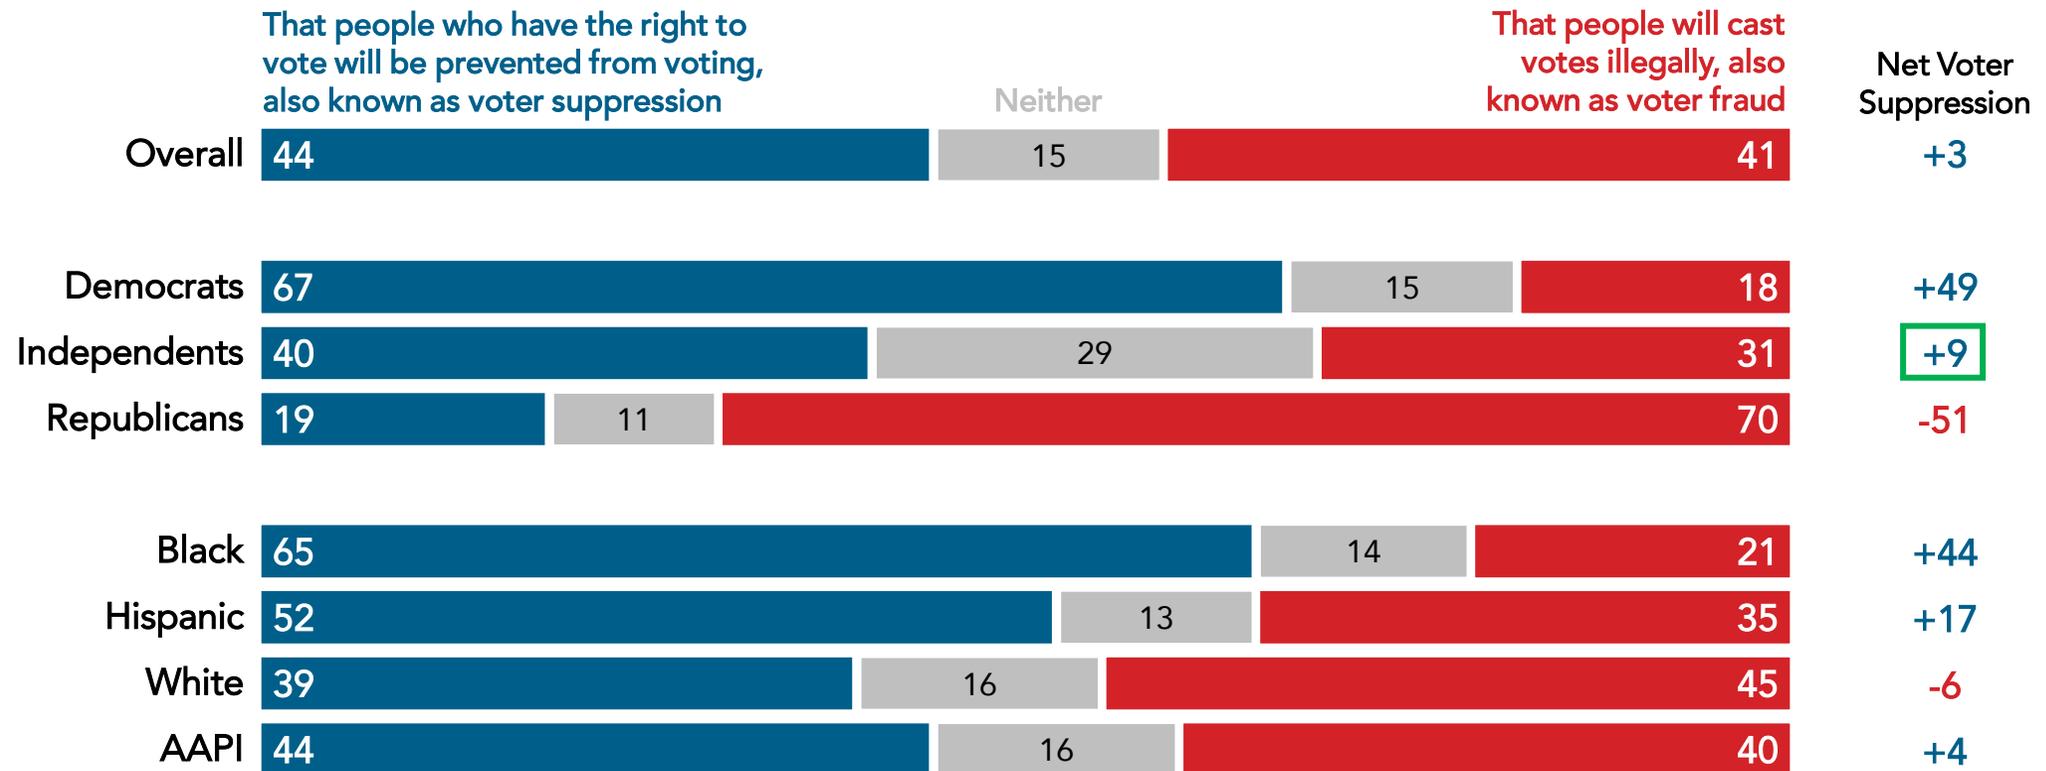

Nationwide survey of 1,001 registered voters conducted September 8-September 11, 2022. For more info, visit navigatorresearch.org.

White Americans Are Only Racial Demographic More Concerned By Voter Fraud Than Voter Suppression

Independents are more concerned about voter suppression (net +9 more concerned about voter suppression). White Americans are the only ethnic group who are more concerned by voter fraud than voter suppression (net -6 concerned about suppression).

Which of the following concerns you more?

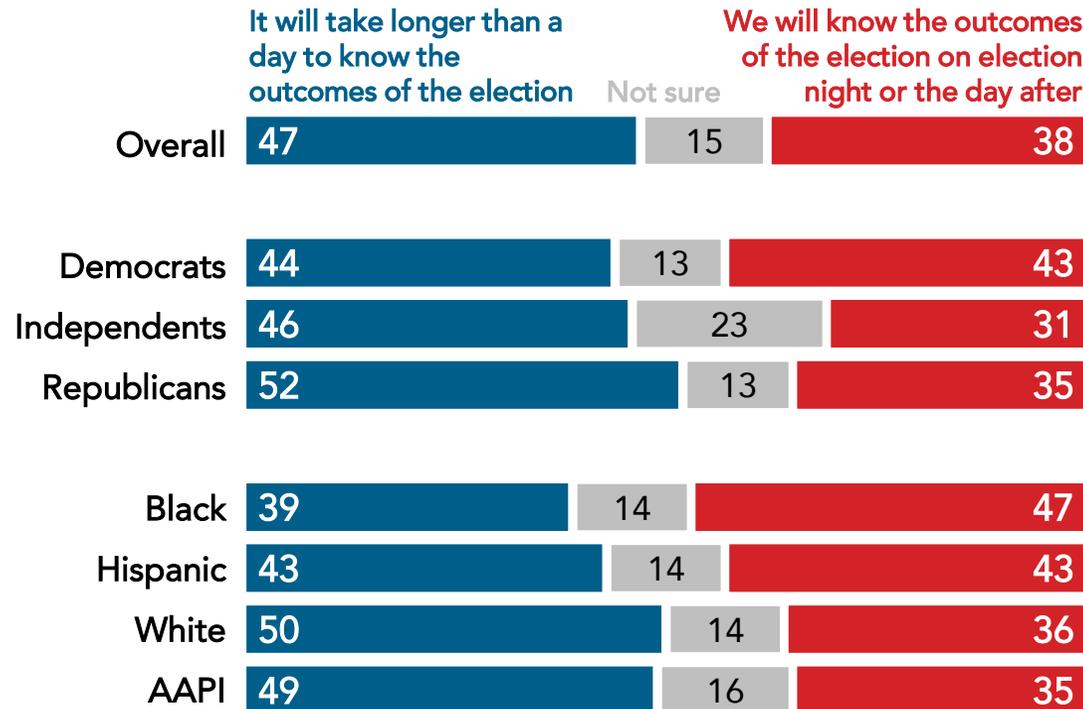

Nationwide survey of 1,001 registered voters conducted September 8-September 11, 2022. For more info, visit navigatorresearch.org.

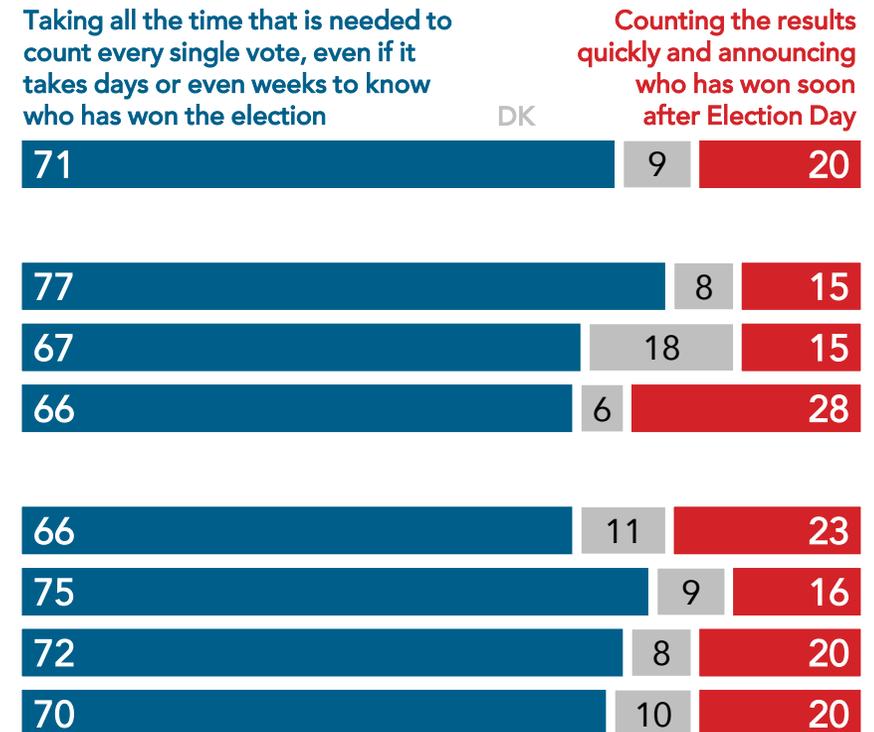

Plurality of Americans Expect Delays in Election Results, But Seven in Ten Accept Them to Ensure Election Accuracy

Majorities across party, race, and ethnicity think it is more important to take “all the time that is needed to count every single vote” than to count the results as quickly as possible.

As you may know, the general election for Congress, including the U.S. House and Senate, takes place on November 8th of this year. Based on what you know, which do you expect to be true in November?

When it comes to ensuring confidence in the accuracy of the election results this November, which do you think is more important?

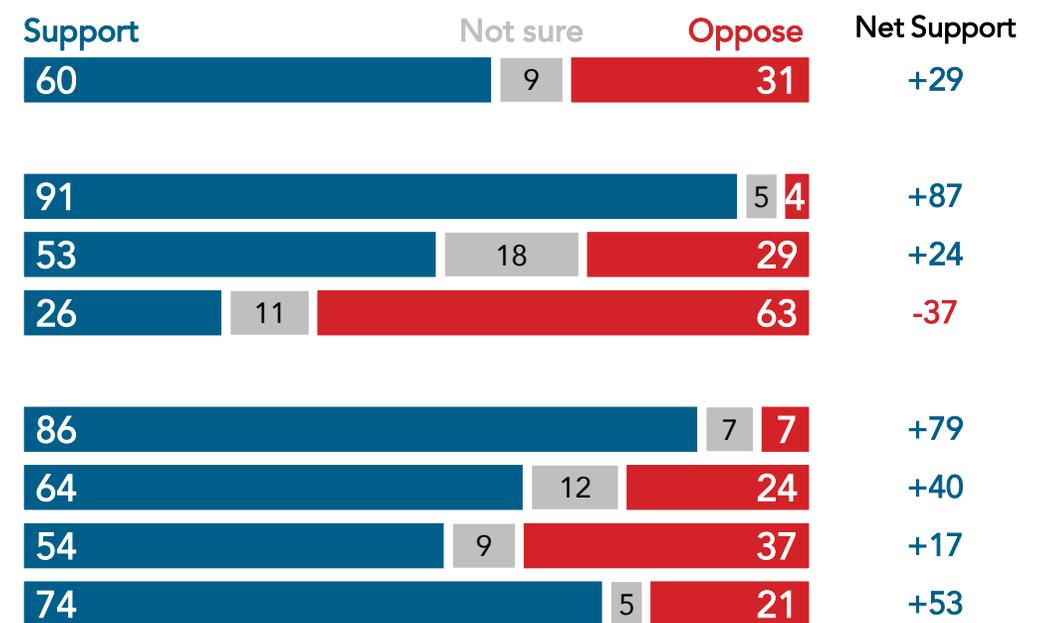

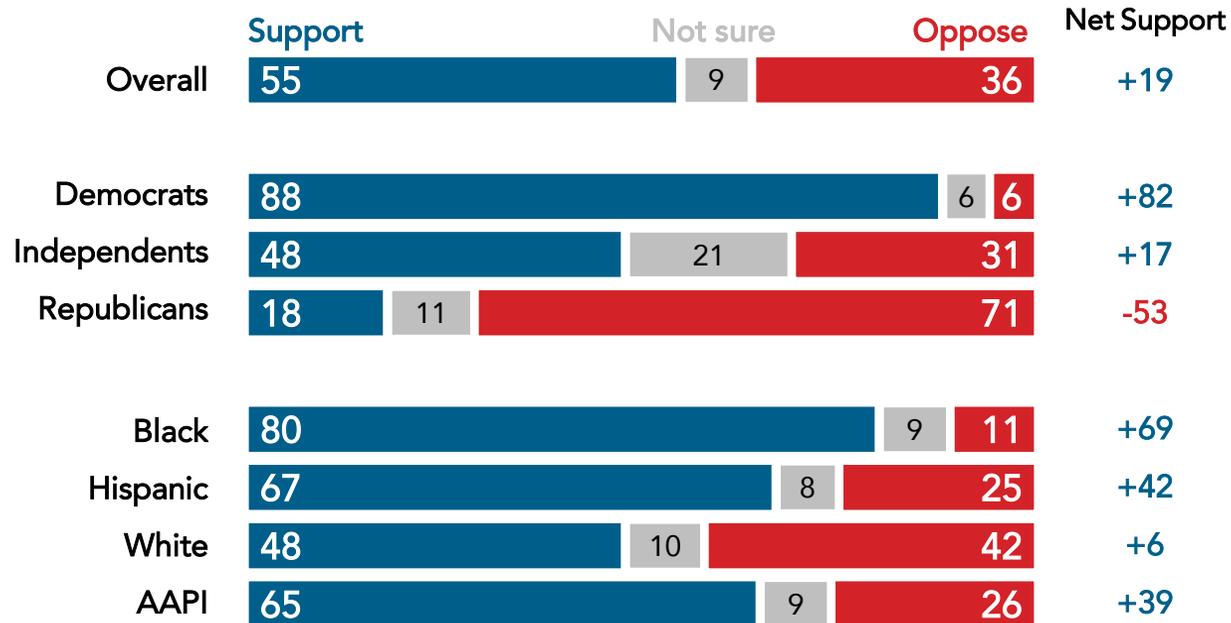

Nationwide survey of 1,001 registered voters conducted September 8-September 11, 2022. For more info, visit navigatorresearch.org.

A Majority Support FBI Searching Mar-a-Lago; Info on Nuclear Documents Trump May Have Possessed Increases Support

After being made aware of the nature of the documents seized by the FBI, support increases among independents by 7 points (from net +17 to net +24), and Republicans by 16 points (from net -53 to net -37).

As you may know, the FBI recently served a warrant on former president Donald Trump's home at Mar-a-Lago. Do you support or oppose the FBI serving a search warrant on Trump's home?

There are reports that at least one reason the FBI served a search warrant on former President Donald Trump's home at Mar-a-Lago is because Trump had possession of sensitive, highly classified documents that contained intelligence about nuclear weapons programs in foreign countries. Knowing this, do you support or oppose the FBI serving a search warrant on Trump's home?

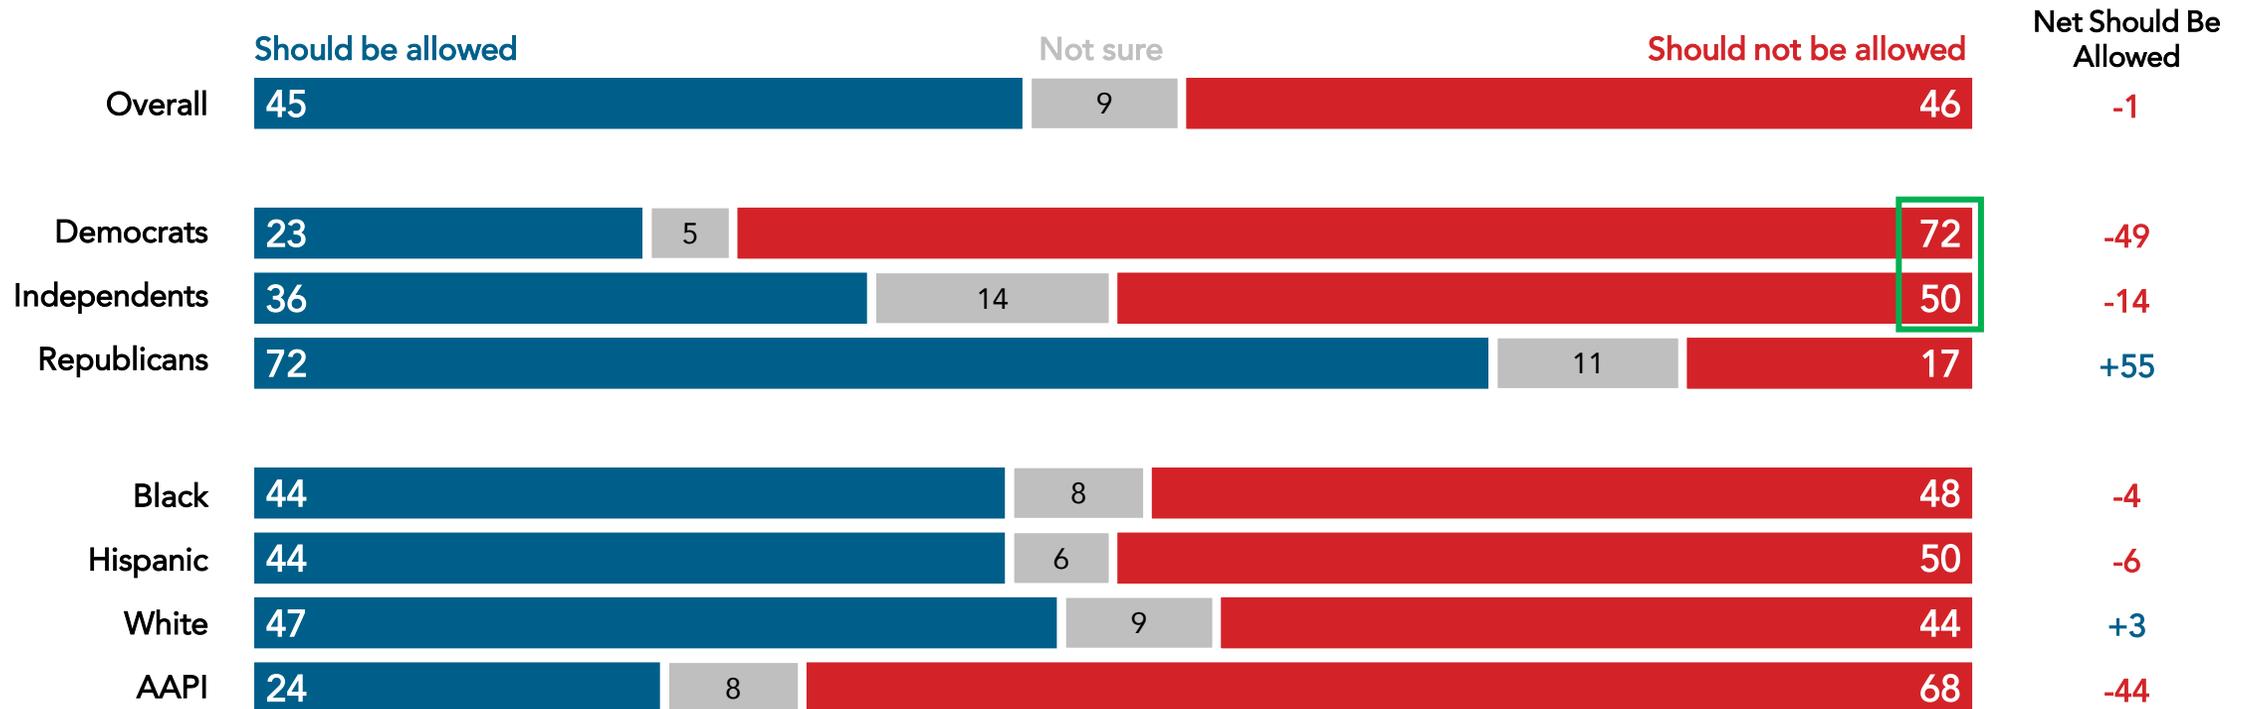

Nationwide survey of 1,001 registered voters conducted September 8-September 11, 2022. For more info, visit navigatorresearch.org.

The FBI Finding Classified Nuclear Weapons Documents at Mar-a-Lago Splits Americans on Whether Trump Can Run Again

Half of independents (50%) and nearly three in four Democrats (72%) say that Trump should not be allowed to run for office again.

There are reports that at least one reason the FBI served a search warrant on former President Donald Trump's home at Mar-a-Lago is because Trump had possession of sensitive, highly classified documents that contained intelligence about nuclear weapons programs in foreign countries. Knowing this, do you think Donald Trump should be allowed to run for President of the United States again, if he chooses?

Nationwide survey of 1,001 registered voters conducted September 8-September 11, 2022. For more info, visit navigatorresearch.org.

navigator*

About Navigator

In a world where the news cycle is the length of a tweet, our leaders often lack the real-time public-sentiment analysis to shape the best approaches to talking about the issues that matter the most. Navigator is designed to act as a consistent, flexible, responsive tool to inform policy debates by conducting research and reliable guidance to inform allies, elected leaders, and the press. Navigator is a project led by pollsters from Global Strategy Group and GBAO along with an advisory committee, including: Arkadi Gerney, The Hub Project; Joel Payne, The Hub Project; Christina Reynolds, EMILY's List; Mike Podhorzer, AFL-CIO; Jesse Ferguson, progressive strategist; Navin Nayak, Center for American Progress Action Fund; Stephanie Valencia, EquisLabs; and Melanie Newman, Planned Parenthood Action Fund.

About the Study

Global Strategy Group conducted public opinion surveys among a sample of 1,001 registered voters from September 8-September 11, 2022. 96 additional interviews were conducted among Hispanic voters. 76 additional interviews were conducted among Asian American and Pacific Islander voters. 100 additional interviews were conducted among African American voters. 99 additional interviews were conducted among independent voters. The survey was conducted online, recruiting respondents from an opt-in online panel vendor. Respondents were verified against a voter file and special care was taken to ensure the demographic composition of our sample matched that of the national registered voter population across a variety of demographic variables.

For Press inquiries contact:

press@navigatorresearch.org

To learn more about Navigator:

<http://navigatorresearch.org>

@NavigatorSurvey on Twitter