Q10. As you may know, the debt ceiling is the maximum amount of money the U.S. government can borrow to pay its bills. The government has already reached this amount, which means the debt ceiling needs to be raised in order to avoid defaulting on the government's bills. Republicans in Congress' plan would take away Medicaid from 20 million Americans by adding new bureaucratic red tape in order for them to get their benefits. In addition, it would add work requirements to SNAP, also known as food stamps, which would result in cuts to food benefits for families including free breakfast and lunch for kids in poverty.

Those who say that Title 42 helped the government manage the migrant crisis at the border and should not have been allowed to expire as it leaves the country vulnerable to more migrant surges .....	36	25	34	50	41	35	36	36

The following are some approaches to fixing our country's immigration system...

Q32. Which of these two approaches to immigration would you prefer Congress pursue?

Focusing on border security only by continuing to build the border wall and taking a strict approach to migrants at the border by significantly restricting asylum and using policies like family detention to deter migrants from showing up at the border.

A balanced approach that both increases border security and protects Dreamers, the undocumented immigrants who came to the United States as children, by providing them and other eligible immigrants a pathway to citizenship if they meet certain criteria like passing a criminal background check.
