Q91A. [SPLIT A] Which do you find more convincing?

Statement A: Democrats who say they're putting people over politics by voting for legislation cutting health insurance premiums for millions of Americans, allowing Medicare to negotiate lower drug prices, protecting abortion rights, and making the wealthy pay their fair share in taxes.

Statement B: Republicans who say that we need to focus on reining in out-of-control government spending and reducing our national debt, cracking down on the crisis at our southern border, and lowering taxes across the board for all Americans.
